14. CAPTIVE-REARED MALLARD DUCKS

DISCLAIMER:

1533.71 of the Ohio Revised Code (ORC) requires a propagation license to hold game birds in captivity; by definition this would include mallard ducks. However, due to the large number of mallard subspecies and hybrids, including domestic ducks, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service has exempted mallards from migratory bird permits for several years. For the same reason, the ODNR Division of Wildlife does not currently require a propagating license issued under ORC 1533.71 for properly marked captive-reared mallard ducks. Nothing in this document should be construed to permit the taking of live mallard ducks or their eggs from the wild.

I. Possession and Sale of Captive-Reared Mallard Ducks

- A. A propagating license is no longer required to possess or sell captive-reared mallard ducks as long as the below conditions are met.
- B. All mallard ducks possessed in captivity, without a permit, shall have been physically marked by at least one of the following methods prior to 6 weeks of age and all such ducks hatched, reared, and retained in captivity thereafter shall be so marked prior to reaching 6 weeks of age.
 1. Removal of the hind toe from the right foot.
 2. Pinioning of a wing; provided that this method shall be the removal of the metacarpal bones of one wing or a portion of the metacarpal bones which renders the bird permanently incapable of flight.
 3. Banding of one metatarsus with a seamless metal band.
