ABOUT US

The Office of the Ohio Public Defender (OPD) was created in 1976 by Chapter 120 of the Ohio Revised Code. OPD is the state agency responsible for providing legal representation and other services to indigent people accused or convicted of a crime and who, otherwise, cannot afford to hire an attorney. The office, which is overseen by the Ohio Public Defender Commission, is divided into Administrative, Appellate Services, Policy & Outreach, and Trial Services divisions. OPD provides representation on appeals and postconviction actions in death penalty, criminal, and juvenile delinquency cases; at trial when requested by local courts and in counties that contract with OPD for trial services; and at parole revocation hearings for more than 50,000 people in Ohio's prisons. The agency provides technical assistance, research services, educational programs, and investigation and mitigation services to local public defenders and court-appointed counsel throughout Ohio. OPD also reimburses counties for a portion of the cost of running local indigent defense systems, and enforces standards established by the OPD Commission.

MESSAGE FROM OUR CHAIR

WILLIAM CREEDON

Criminal justice is at a crossroads—reform is on the agenda of almost all criminal justice stakeholders. And the Office of the Ohio Public Defender has become the voice leading substantial reform efforts in Ohio—bail reform, ending mass incarceration, treatment and recovery in place of a war on drugs, and greatly expanding expungement privileges so people may obtain gainful employment. OPD continues to lead even in the face of an underfunded system. As we look forward to a new year there is great hope for increased funding, broad systemic improvement, and continued leadership toward a just system that values both sides of the adversarial process equally.

Today, OPD operates in an unbalanced system but there is reason to hope for change. The voice of reform moves forward every day. Ohio has endured 50 years of the failed war on drugs and 40 years of an experiment in mass incarceration. These policies have cost billions of dollars and had little or no impact on improving the lives of Ohioans. Legislators, judges, prison officials, and untold others are seeking OPD's voice to join and lead discussions on reform to create a new view of how to help those who need help when they are facing a loss of freedom. And it is OPD that sets the standard for quality advocacy and representation in Ohio. OPD provides training to lawyers across the state and stands as a voice for the poor and accused in courtrooms across Ohio. OPD is the leading voice for policy reform, continuously testifying on best practices and the importance of data driven decisions, and efforts to advocate for fairness—in individual client cases and in the halls of our policymakers. Ultimately, this reform work will lead to change and a balanced system of justice.

WORD FROM OUR DIRECTOR

TIM YOUNG

"The true measure of our character is how we treat the poor, the disfavored, the accused, the incarcerated, and the condemned." - Bryan Stevenson

The vision of the Office of the Ohio Public Defender (OPD) is "A Fair Justice System." To move Ohio closer to a fair justice system in Fiscal Year 2018 (FY18), the OPD continued to be a voice for criminal justice reform, seeking a new direction away from the failed path of mass incarceration—that disparately impacts individuals of color and the poor. During FY18, OPD promoted drug reform, eliminating the death penalty for those who are mentally ill, limiting life without parole sentences for juveniles, and sought rational policies based on data and proven best practices. While OPD's voice of reform was joined by many in our community and in the General Assembly, change does not come easy. During FY18, Ohio continued its failed war on drugs and struggled to reduce its prison population by any meaningful number.

Despite a lack of major reform of the criminal justice system on a statewide level, OPD continued its national reputation for innovation and advocacy, leading litigation efforts in courtrooms across Ohio, outreach in the community, and heeded the call for policy reform. In FY18, OPD conducted multiple forensic trainings, hosted a two-day juvenile summit, trained lawyers in appellate and death penalty practice, hosted a five-day skill-based trial advocacy program, and held an annual county public defender summit. OPD members provided instruction at numerous continuing legal education seminars throughout the state, and provided assistance to individual lawyers and county public defender offices whenever called upon. Of significant note, the OPD partnered with the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority to serve as guest presenters, over the course of eight months, at their program for youth: Empowering Males Building Opportunities Developing Independence—which focused on teaching teens about various aspects of the criminal justice system.

Fighting. Advocating. Helping. This is OPD's mission. Going forward, OPD remains committed to bringing about radical change in the criminal justice system that will make Ohio healthier and safer.

TABLE OF ORGANIZATION

OHIO PUBLIC DEFENDER COMMISSION

ADMINISTRATIVE DIVISION

The Administrative Division consists of five departments: Fiscal, Human Capital Management, Legal Resource Center, Management Information Systems, and Office Services.

FY18 INITIATIVES

- Deployed OPD Online to four counties
- Implemented the State of Ohio Hiring Management System
- Launched a new onboarding program
- Updated the intranet page
- Logged over 274,000 miles on State vehicles
- Conducted fleet safety training
- Held recognition for Office Services volunteers
- Conducted operations and financial review
- Introduced the Bluecoat web filtering tool
- Deployed Infoblox
- Implemented the Tableau software system

Staff in the Administrative Division provide the necessary services common to most State agencies, including fiscal and accounting, personnel and training, management information systems, purchasing, fleet management, and delivery.

The Administrative Division also provides services specifically mandated by R.C. 120, including collecting reimbursement from counties for legal services provided and maintaining the office's library.

- Accepted over 6,400 client collect calls
- Marked the 25th anniversary of the Lucasville Uprising

ESPECIALLY SIGNIFICANT

In FY18, the Administrative Division assisted with the development and implementation of the Pay Equity Plan, a powerful tool that provides equitable compensation based on performance and responsibility. This plan assists the OPD in simultaneously attracting and retaining talent and increasing employee morale.

The State implemented a new online platform, and OPD was one of three agencies to launch a new intranet page in tandem with the platform launch.

APPELLATE SERVICES DIVISION

DEATH PENALTY DEPARTMENT

The Death Penalty Department represents capital-sentenced individuals in a variety of legal matters, including direct appeal, state post-conviction petition litigation, federal habeas corpus, and clemency petitions.

The nature of capital representation requires death penalty attorneys to collaborate with both the Mitigation & Investigation Department and the Wrongful Conviction Project to present innocence claims in felony cases throughout Ohio.

Our attorneys frequently present continuing legal education training and are active in a number of agency working groups. We consult with private counsel on the complexity of capital litigation, host moot court sessions for private attorneys who litigate capital issues, and when appropriate, file amicus briefs.

FY18 INITIATIVES

- Developed and implemented the “Case Weight Matrix,” a workload management system that incorporates national best-practices standards for capital litigation caseload/case-weight assignments and adapts those standards to Ohio practices.
- Collaborated with the Mitigation & Investigation Department to identify ways to improve communication and case workflow. These efforts will continue into FY19.
- Resumed work on a statistical database of all capital indicted defendants impacted by the life-without-parole sentencing option. This project will provide statistically significant data about the way Ohio administers the death penalty.
- Revised and updated a manual to govern capital post-conviction representation, in state court.

[C]onsidering the voluminous evidence casing considerable doubt on the credibility of [victim] Amber Garrett’s mother and brother and suggesting that they were implicated in her death, as well as the newly discovered scientific inaccuracies in the testimony regarding the hair analysis, Wogenstahl has made a prima facie showing that he can establish by clear and convincing evidence that no reasonable factfinder would have found him guilty.

In re Wogenstahl, 902 F.3d 621, 629 (6th Cir. 2018)

ESPECIALLY SIGNIFICANT

The Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals granted a Death Penalty Department request for leave to file a successor habeas petition on behalf of our client. The courts rarely grant leave to file a successor habeas petition. However, one of our attorneys persuaded the court to allow her client to pursue habeas relief on claims that he could not raise in his initial petition. The client received a merits-ruling on these important claims and the court granted a stay of execution, as well.

In another case, the Sixth Circuit granted leave to file a successor habeas petition to assert claims that our client is factually innocent, based on newly discovered evidence. Our attorneys overcame the strong presumption against successor petitions and persuaded the court to hear these claims.

This victory was especially meaningful because our client was initially sentenced to death but with attorney persuasion, the governor commuted the death sentence.

The trial court granted a petition for post-conviction relief based on ineffective assistance of trial counsel in another case. The court vacated the death sentence and ordered a new sentencing hearing.

The trial court granted discovery in one of our post-conviction cases. This was the first time the court addressed the application of the newly amended Criminal Rule 42. The court accepted our view that the rule applies even to cases filed before the effective date of the amendment.

APPELLATE SERVICES DIVISION

JUVENILE DEPARTMENT

The Juvenile Department is a one-stop shop for all things originating within the juvenile court jurisdiction.

FY18 INITIATIVES

- Partnered with the Ohio Department of Youth Services to provide quarterly sealing and expungement clinics in various regions of the State, assisting with expungement and record-sealing for people who were previously involved in the juvenile justice system.
- Produced the first (of an anticipated six) practice guide to distribute to the juvenile defender community for use in delinquency proceedings.
- Hosted a statewide delinquency training attended by more than 190 juvenile defenders and appointed counsel.

The Juvenile Department provides direct representation to children in delinquency trials, and serious youthful offender and transfer proceedings. The post-dispositional team represents juveniles who have been adjudicated delinquent in juvenile court or who have been transferred to criminal court, in appeals, post-conviction actions, collateral attacks, judicial release, reentry, and other post-disposition proceedings, including juvenile sex offender registration, sealing and expunging petitions, and parole board hearings.

Our attorneys investigate confinement claims on behalf of incarcerated youth and provide administrative advocacy. The Juvenile Department also provides support and assistance to county defenders and the juvenile defense bar through co-counseling, and by organizing and facilitating trainings throughout Ohio.

ESPECIALLY SIGNIFICANT

We had a number of positive outcomes, but one case was secured by an appellate staff attorney who discovered an error in the invocation of the adult portion of a child's serious youthful offender disposition. The client was committed to the Department of Youth Services on two separate case numbers, the sentences of which were to be served consecutively. The first case carried a firearm specification; the second did not. But, the second case carried an SYO disposition. Under Ohio law, the firearm specification of any commitment must be served first; so, our client began his commitments serving the firearm specification of his non-SYO case.

Less than a year into his sentence, the state moved to invoke his adult sentence, citing "bad conduct" within the institution.

Following a hearing, the juvenile court granted the state's motion, finding that the client could not be rehabilitated in the juvenile system. Our appellate attorney realized that the invoked SYO was improper because the client was not yet serving the juvenile portion of the SYO sentence. Instead, because he was serving time on his non-SYO case, the juvenile court lacked jurisdiction to invoke his adult sentence.

The court of appeals agreed and held that our client's adult sentence was unlawfully invoked and that the statutory requirements of Ohio's SYO statute were not met. As a result, our client will soon be released from prison.

I just read the entire motion for the first time today. I am absolutely blown away. There are so many supporting cases that I had no idea about and it just truly exemplifies the difference between a lay practitioner such as myself verses a truly accomplished superior attorney who stands out above her peers....I am humbled and so grateful that someone of your skill level would be driven by her morals and ethics to represent a citizenry generally looked upon as repugnant pests certainly not for the salary such public work provides nor for the prestige of the firm but for the idea that people like me, a criminal, deserve fair and equitable treatment by the government.

Thank you note from a client to his juvenile attorney

LEGAL DEPARTMENT

The Legal Department oversees adult non-capital cases and attempts to use post-conviction remedies to help clients with a variety of issues. The Legal Department is divided into three sections to monitor and litigate cases throughout the state: Appeals and Post-conviction, Intake, and Prison Legal Services.

Prison Legal Services Section

The Prison Legal Services Section works directly in the prisons by providing orientation for people entering prison, answering questions, and also providing representation in parole board and parole revocation hearings.

FY18 INITIATIVES

- Evaluated the types of cases we litigate and overhauled our review processes to provide the best overall client service.
- Developed a new annual training format that will begin fall 2019. The annual Legal Summit will be a two-day CLE and will feature a new theme each year designed to tackle some of the most serious issues in the criminal justice system.

Intake Section

The Intake Section is tasked with monitoring and responding to all incoming mail, calls, and other requests from attorneys and defendants.

The Appeals and Post-Conviction Section

The Appeals and Post-Conviction Section litigates cases through a variety of post-conviction filings, including appeals, writs, and post-conviction petitions. Attorneys litigate meritorious issues throughout all 88 Ohio counties.

ESPECIALLY SIGNIFICANT

The Legal Department was fortunate to celebrate several positive outcomes for our clients. Two stand out, however, as they show how our team's dedication to the very people that so many others would cast off or forget.

In one case, our attorney dealt with the difficult task of arguing the merits of pre-indictment related to a murder charge. The client had been sentenced to 15 years-to-life in prison, but the Sixth District Court ultimately determined that the State had not established justifiable reason for the delay in the case and overturned the conviction.

In another case, our Appeals and Post-conviction supervisor convinced the Sixth District Court to dismiss the State's appeal over an order granting a new trial. Citing double jeopardy grounds, the court said the trial court's determination that the State produced insufficient evidence at the original trial barred any future trials.

APPELLATE SERVICES DIVISION

MITIGATION AND INVESTIGATION DEPARTMENT

The Mitigation and Investigation Department is responsible for providing investigative services to all departments of OPD and frequently assists outside counsel.

OPD investigators provide both criminal and mitigation investigations. Investigating the facts surrounding the crime is the core of a criminal investigation, while mitigation investigations focus on telling the life story of a client by doing extensive research into the client's background and family history. We offer our investigation and mitigation services to all OPD county offices.

The range of services provided by the Mitigation and Investigation Department is varied. Both mitigators and criminal investigators are involved in record collection, locating and interviewing witnesses, locating and interviewing expert witnesses, reviewing gathered material, notary services, subpoena service, assisting in developing mitigation themes

- Implemented a social work internship program in which students from The Ohio State University provide case assistance, and placement and reentry planning.
- Began working to identify programs and placements available in all 88 Ohio counties, and compiling a database of these programs for OPD staff. This project will continue through FY19.
- Launched group training sessions on the basics of mitigation investigation, with the goal of developing further trainings on mitigation-related topics such as intellectual disability. The sessions incorporated a PowerPoint presentation, supplemental materials, and discussions with experienced mitigation specialists.

for trial, federal habeas, and post-conviction cases, conducting juror interviews, and assisting in reentry programs or placement for clients. In most investigations, our goal is to attempt to mitigate the punishment for the client. The criminal investigation looks at the facts of the crime in question in an effort to refute the state's theory of the crime; the mitigation investigation centers on the efforts of the defense team to lessen the severity of a sentence for an individual found guilty of a capital or non-capital offense. In death-eligible cases, saving the life of the client is our main focus.

Our investigators work hard to establish good rapport with the client and the client's family. Understandably, there may be some reluctance to share the family history; however, being able to show a jury or panel of judges a complete view of the individual's life is imperative for effective defense and in gaining a positive outcome for the client.

ESPECIALLY SIGNIFICANT

One of our capital defendants received a life without parole sentence, which was a huge win for us. The facts of the case seemed to be insurmountable and the challenges faced by the defense team were difficult to overcome. Teamwork, persistence, dedication, and refusal of the defense team to give up all contributed to a favorable outcome.

APPELLATE SERVICES DIVISION

WRONGFUL CONVICTION PROJECT

The Wrongful Conviction Project focuses primarily on claims of innocence that do not involve DNA evidence. These claims include, but are not limited to, allegations of flawed science, witness misidentification, and false confessions.

FY18 INITIATIVES

- Conducted research to assist in supporting the passage of the Ohio Wrongful Imprisonment Compensation bill.
- Served on the planning committee and participated in the Innocence Network's March for Criminal Justice Reform in Memphis, Tennessee. The march and subsequent rally at the Lorraine Motel were intended to draw attention to the failings of the criminal justice system, in particular the racial disparities that continue to permeate it. The march honored Dr. Martin Luther King's memory and called on all of us to continue his work. WCP client Tim Howard and his family joined us during the march.

The Wrongful Conviction Project reviews and fully investigates cases, with the end goal of regaining freedom for the wrongfully convicted. In addition, we work with the OPD Legislative Liaison and the Innocence Network Policy Unit to promote policy changes to prevent future wrongful convictions. WCP works to educate the public on the causes and consequences of wrongful convictions, and also serves as a resource for others in the field.

To date, the Wrongful Conviction Project has freed one wrongfully incarcerated person and won the release of another client who will be home in the near future. Our project attorney currently represents 10 clients, eight of whom currently have cases in active litigation.

The Wrongful Conviction Project is a member of the Innocence Network, which is made up of approximately 70 organizations worldwide that work independently and collaboratively to free innocent people. We have been actively involved in this network and are working to develop a new innocence litigator curriculum designed to train attorneys who are new to innocence work. Our WCP supervisor is on the Network's executive board and provides oversight and guidance to the Network.

ESPECIALLY SIGNIFICANT

In May 2018, a Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court judge ruled that we had met the standard required to be granted leave to file a motion for new trial in one of our cases. The two-day hearing demonstrated the uphill battle we face, as the WCP called upon two police officers—one former and one current—to testify in opposition to previous police trial testimony. We are still awaiting the court's decision on a new trial.

POLICY & OUTREACH DIVISION

The Policy & Outreach (P&O) Division was created in fiscal year 2015 to house the agency's growing policy, public outreach, and oversight efforts.

In addition to providing direct client representation, the agency is statutorily mandated to supervise the compliance of county indigent defense systems with the Commission's standards and the agency's guidelines, and to provide technical aid and assistance to local indigent defense service providers. The division serves as the main point of contact for county indigent defense systems and oversees reimbursement to the counties. It is also responsible for the agency's media and social media efforts, public records requests, and legislation.

FY18 INITIATIVES

- Provided testimony on a number of legislative bills.
- Advocated for legislation that would support criminal justice reform (including bills that would bar a death sentence for an individual who had a serious mental illness at the time of the offense, legislation that significantly limit the number of juveniles sentenced to life without the possibility of parole, and even weighed-in on a panhandling ordinance before the Columbus City Council).
- Continued to collaborate with the IT Department on OPD Online and development of OPD Reimbursement.
- Published the first OPD Yearbook with profiles of each staff member.
- Processed an average of 13,000-14,000 fee applications each month to 88 counties for the costs of indigent defense services.

ESPECIALLY SIGNIFICANT

The P&O team increased OPD's presence on social media, frequently posting about OPD team members' work—both in and out of the office—that reflected OPD's mission, vision, and values. #TeamOPD

TRIAL SERVICES DIVISION

Trial Services Department

Trial Department attorneys represent clients throughout the State of Ohio and in federal court.

The Trial Department represents clients charged with the death penalty and those who have had issues with other counsel. Trial Department attorneys also step in when local counsel are unable—or unwilling—to represent.

Trial Department attorneys regularly consult with outside counsel on trial issues, present at continuing education seminars on death penalty and trial issues, help keep the Death Penalty Motion Manual up-to-date, and assist colleagues with evidentiary hearings, and state post-conviction and federal habeas corpus cases.

FY18 INITIATIVES

The Trial Department began using OPD Online as its case management system.

ESPECIALLY SIGNIFICANT

All three death penalty cases the Trial Department resolved in FY18 resulted in the client receiving a life sentence.

Man, I heard you talkin' to them and you fought for me. I am legit totally amazed. Thank you. I am amazed.

Thank you note from a client to his trial attorney

TRIAL SERVICES DIVISION

Athens County Office

The Athens County Office covers a majority of misdemeanors, juvenile, and felony cases, including probation violations.

The Athens County Office covers cases in Athens, Pike, and Jackson counties, with one attorney covering felony-level cases and probation violations in Pike and Jackson counties through contracts in those counties. Our staff is comprised of five attorneys, one program administrator, three support staff, and one social worker.

In FY18, our office handled approximately 407 felonies, 108 preliminary hearings, 483 probation violations, 1033 misdemeanors, and 55 juvenile court cases.

FY18 INITIATIVES

- Actively engaged in specialized dockets (in Athens County), including substance abuse, mental illness, DUI, and veterans court dockets.
- Attended Athens Stand Down, a program aimed at helping homeless, financially impacted veterans.
- Helped the State of Michigan revamp its indigent defense system through education on the importance of social workers.
- Member of a local Community Based Correctional Facility board.
- Organized fundraisers to help raise money for local charities in Athens County.

ESPECIALLY SIGNIFICANT

One of our attorneys led six cases that resulted in flat-out dismissals due to misidentification. His hard work benefited not only our clients, but also other court appointed counsel. This attorney secured agreed dismissals for his clients and also generated significant media exposure of these issues. As a result, the prosecutor's office began to change the way it evaluates cases prior to indictment, and local law enforcement agencies are not as quick to reach for indictments.

TRIAL SERVICES DIVISION

Ross County Office

Through a contract with Ross County, our office provides trial level indigent defense services to the entire county. Our office of seven attorneys and four administrative professionals provide representation of the indigent criminally accused in common pleas court, Chillicothe Municipal Court, and juvenile court.

FY18 INITIATIVES

- Maintained our involvement in Common Pleas Drug Court, and are proud of the 15 people who graduated.
- Remained active in the Hope Partnership Project (formally the Heroin Partnership Project) by attending meetings and distributing information on opiate addiction, drug rehabilitation, and medical provider resources.
- Along with BMV representatives and court staff, implemented BMV Day—a one-stop-shop to help individuals with their driver's licenses, through payment plans, fee forgiveness, and immediate processing of documents.
- Hired two new attorneys who have multiple years of criminal law experience. We appreciate their confidence and contributions to our office.

Our attorneys are on the front lines daily, litigating complex pre-trial motions, conducting trials before the bench or jury, and advocating for clients during plea negotiations and disposition hearings. We know the best possible client outcomes often require a comprehensive approach to an individual client's needs, and because of this, our office is closely connected to community resources. We are able to direct our clients to help that will not only lead them to a better legal outcome, but that will also assist in the challenges they face outside the courthouse. As trial attorneys, our mission is protecting the rights of our clients by advocating, fighting, and helping them in the courtroom and the community.

ESPECIALLY SIGNIFICANT

We have had an incredibly successful year with a number of positive outcomes. Our staff consistently goes above and beyond to address clients' needs. Highlights include:

- One of our attorneys tried six cases in 2018, and won five of them—one with a not guilty jury verdict in what has to be a record 14 minutes of deliberation.
- One of our attorneys received acquittals in a number of juvenile cases and had many more dismissals. Her commitment goes beyond the courtroom, as well. In one particular case, she worked with Children Services to assist her client with foster home placement, and connected him with several appropriate counseling services.

- One of our attorneys, after successfully arguing a number of suppression hearings in FY18, pointed out that, in one case, the only articulable fact the police could point to was that the client left a known drug house that was being surveilled by detectives. He argued that if we go by the State's logic, every person coming out of that house could be stopped and searched into perpetuity. Not only did the court agree, leading to a dismissal, but other cases with similar fact patterns were positively impacted because of this one motion.

- One of our attorneys tried his first three cases as a public defender, and won two of them.
- With two clients initially charged with high-level felonies, one of our attorneys achieved successful outcomes. One client, charged with attempted murder, later plead guilty to misdemeanor child endangering. A second client was facing multiple counts of rape, and after a strongly litigated and contentious preliminary hearing, the client was never indicted.

TRIAL SERVICES DIVISION

Trumbull County Office

OPD has maintained and operated a branch in Trumbull County since 1984. The office is located in Warren and provides indigent defense representation in Courts in Trumbull County. In addition to the full-time attorneys and staff at the Trumbull County Office, OPD contracts with 16 local attorneys to provide indigent criminal defense representation.

Attorneys in the Trumbull County Office provide representation at the common pleas level and in the juvenile division of the domestic relations division. We provide representation in Brookfield, Cortland, Girard, Newton Falls, Niles, and Warren.

Our attorneys also provide appellate and drug court representation.

ESPECIALLY SIGNIFICANT

- In a case in which our client was charged with felonious assault, one of our attorneys tried the case and received a not guilty verdict.
- In a Girard Municipal Court case, one of our contract attorneys filed an appeal in the Eleventh District Court of Appeals. He won the appeal and the case went to the Supreme Court.

TRIAL SERVICES DIVISION

Washington County Office

The Washington County Office handles felonies (except death penalty cases), misdemeanors, and juvenile delinquency cases. Our office receives and approves all of the Financial Disclosure forms in the county, as well as assigns attorneys to each client. There are currently four in-house attorneys and two independent contract attorneys. We handle the majority of criminal cases in Washington County as well as juvenile cases referred to us from the court.

Our office represent clients at bond hearings and probation violation hearings, and we file any and all motions that may be in the best interest of our clients before, during, and after their cases are over. This can include, but is not limited to, motions to return property, motions for judicial release, motions to continue or accelerate hearings, motions for bond reduction, and motions for driving privileges.

FY18 INITIATIVES

- Our director attended drug court training, which is invaluable for clients whose crimes are related to their addiction issues.
- One of our attorneys attended a training for the Marietta Municipal Court diversion program, benefitting clients with substance abuse issues who are charged with misdemeanors.
- All attorneys participated in a mock trial at the Washington County Courthouse.
- Our director participated in the History on Trial fundraiser. The mock case was built on articles and indictments from 1906 involving bribery and corruption upon the introduction Marietta's second railroad.

ESPECIALLY SIGNIFICANT

- One of our staff attorneys successfully achieved the dismissal of an F-1 failure to register indictment then helped the client make VA contacts to assist in obtaining services for housing and medical benefits. She also won a motion to suppress due to the State's violation of her client's constitutional rights. As a result, the client's F-2 Drug Trafficking indictment was dismissed.
- Winning his first ever jury trial, one of our staff attorneys also won a motion to suppress, resulting in the dismissal of his client's charges.
- One of our staff attorneys obtained the dismissal of his client's felony charges with prejudice after filing a motion to dismiss pursuant to the State's violation of his right to a speedy disposition.
- Our office director had a client's case dismissed at his felony arraignment (an F-3 burglary and F-5 theft of a $3,000 bicycle). The client had been declared incompetent in Washington County Juvenile Court prior to his indictment. Our director also obtained a favorable outcome for a client charged with his 11th OVI. The client will be serving six months in prison prior to an agreed judicial release. In another case—a jury trial for two F-3 aggravated vehicular homicide charges—the defendant was found guilty of two misdemeanor vehicular homicides and served no jail time.

NOTES TO TABLE I: OHIO PUBLIC DEFENDER COMMISSION EXPENDITURES

FY 18 Expenditures: Net expenditures of fiscal year 2018 budget appropriations using the budgetary basis of accounting. Under the budgetary basis, the agency matches or accrues all expenditures to the fiscal year for which they were appropriated. The figures include disbursements on open encumbrances of fiscal year 2018 appropriations made between July 1, 2018 and November 30, 2018.

The agency accounts for expenditures using the budgetary basis method for two reasons. First, it is common for the agency to have open encumbrances at year end that are ultimately not disbursed. Some encumbrances may lapse, meaning they go unspent. To include the full value of open encumbrances at year end would potentially overstate the amount of fiscal year 2018 appropriations actually expended. Second, and for a similar reason, the agency excludes disbursements of prior year encumbrances made in the current year. For example, the figures would exclude an equipment acquisition encumbered and received in fiscal year 2017, but not vouchered and disbursed until fiscal year 2018.

A full detailed report of the agency's fiscal year 2018 financial statements including reconciliation to the modified accrual basis of accounting is available on the agency's website at www.opd.ohio.gov.

In fiscal year 1994, OPD created the Ohio Legal Assistance Foundation (OLAF), a non-profit organization to administer the Civil Legal Services Program. Funds from this account are now distributed to OLAF, who makes distributions and grants to Ohio's civil legal aid societies.

019613: Gifts & Grants: This account is authorized under R.C. 120.04(C)(2), and is used to administer funds when the OPD receives money from private donors or from non-federal grants.
