The DAPC and designated supervisors will be trained to address the abuse of alcohol or other drugs by employees, to recognize facts that give rise to reasonable suspicion, and the proper procedures for documenting a finding of reasonable suspicion.

- A. Such reasonable suspicion must be based on objective facts or specific circumstances found to exist that present a reasonable basis to believe that an employee is under the influence of, or is using or abusing, alcohol and/or other drugs.
 - 1. Facts or circumstances leading to reasonable suspicion may include, but are not limited to, direct observation of the use of alcohol or drugs, slurred speech, disorientation, and abnormal conduct or behavior.
 - 2. Such reasonable suspicion is developed immediately before, during, or immediately after the employee performs his or her job duties.

3. Employees involved in motor vehicle accidents while on duty, job-related accidents or incidents, or who engage in unsafe on-duty or job-related activities that pose a danger to themselves, to others, or to the overall operation of the Township may be subject to reasonable suspicion testing. Test results gathered by law enforcement officers while conducting a motor vehicle accident investigation may be used in place of reasonable suspicion testing.
- B. Whenever possible, reasonable suspicion testing should be based on documentation and concurrence by two trained employees.
1. A trained supervisor who has made a determination of a reasonable suspicion that an employee is under the influence of alcohol or any other drugs may compel that employee to submit to a drug or alcohol test to confirm the reasonable suspicion.
 2. Testing shall be done at a facility certified under National Drug Abuse standards. Employees ordered to be tested must do so immediately and will be escorted by the DAPC or trained supervisor to the testing facility. Upon test completion, the tested employee will then be escorted to the employee's place of residence. A tested employee shall not report to work until instructed to do so by the employee's Department Head.
 3. Employees must cooperate with all testing procedures. An employee who is suspected of being under the influence of alcohol or other drugs and who refuses to cooperate with all testing procedures, who fails to provide an adequate specimen outside of a medical condition which physically prevents the employee from providing a sufficient specimen, or who impedes the testing process in any manner will be considered to have refused to test and will be disciplined accordingly.
 4. Employees must comply with all requirements of the testing process. An employee who attempts to alter or substitute the specimen provided for drug testing shall be deemed to have refused to take the drug test and shall be subject to the same disciplinary actions as required for refusing to submit to a properly ordered test.

- C. The trained supervisor making the reasonable suspicion determination will prepare a report of the incident giving rise to the suspicion of drug and/or alcohol use in accordance with the following guidelines:
 - 1. The report will include a chronologically-ordered description of the behaviors and mannerisms the employee exhibited leading to the reasonable suspicion.
 - 2. This report will be forwarded to the DAPC within twenty-four (24) hours after the test is conducted or refusal is recorded.

Section 4: Employees who test positive for alcohol or another prohibited substance will be given a meaningful opportunity to offer an explanation or submit medical documentation of legally- prescribed medications or exposure to toxic substances which may explain a positive test result. Such information shall be reviewed by a qualified licensed physician, who will provide a determination as to the validity of the positive test result. The DAPC shall be provided an explanation of positive test results only by the physician.

Section 5: Appeal of Drug Test Results - Employees who have a positive drug test result may request a retest of the original specimen. The facility performing such retest shall be certified under National Drug Abuse standards. Any such retest shall be at the expense of the employee. The employee will not be required to pay for the test prior to the test being conducted.

- A. An employee may be found to have used illegal drugs on the basis of any appropriate evidence including, but not limited to:
 - 1. Direct observation;

2. Evidence obtained from a workplace-related arrest or criminal conviction;
3. A verified positive test result;
4. An employee's voluntary admission; or
